Maximize the Potential of new Opportunities

A streamlined Sales Cycle designed to maximize productivity. This allows your sales force to maximize the potential, given the short time your prospects and customers afford them.

Clicking on an appointment in your desktop, laptop or mobile tablet calendar application takes you straight to the relevant real-time information regarding account, opportunity, Quote, Order, shipping, billing, payment and dispute information specific to the account or opportunity the appointment was created for.

User productivity is further maximized through the automatic synchronization of the Calendar and Contact information on your mobile device, in Microsoft Outlook and in GLOVIA G2.

Predictive Insight into an Accurate Measured Pipeline

The manner in which you handle a new opportunity will typically vary as an opportunity gets closer to becoming actual business.

GLOVIA G2 CRM opportunity management capabilities allow users to progress a new business opportunity from a simple 'ball-park' figure that involves no specific product identification, through product quantity and discount predictions, negotiations, detailed quotes, orders and beyond.

An automatic summarized Pipeline assessment capability that provides drills to all details, makes for a powerful insight into how that opportunity currently stacks-up, and, allows the user to make regular assessments and re-assessments of revenue, costs and margin. This then rolls-up to provide an accurate evaluation of the overall new business pipeline.

GLOVIA G2 Ad-hoc reporting and charting capabilities provide you with the tools you need to inter-actively analyze, measure, assess and manage all aspects of Pipeline, Sales Team activity, customers activity and beyond.
